

THE THERAPIST

SEASON 2

WE HAVE AN IMPORTANT ROLE TO PLAY

Artists talk about their mental health now. They post about panic attacks, grief and sobriety to millions of followers.

Their fans are listening, but many of them have still never sought out professional help. Stigma remains one of the key blockers.

The more we talk about it, the more we distigmatize it – no brand owns the conversation with artists yet.

This is where we come in.

10.3MM

Young adults aged 18–25 had a mental illness in the past year. That's 28.6% of the age group, the highest rate of any adult age group.*

87%

Of teens aged 12–17 who needed mental health care and went without it believed they should be able to handle it on their own.*

SAMHSA, 2025 National Survey on Drug Use and Health: Annual National Report (PDF, July 2026)*

THE THERAPIST

One licensed therapist. One famous artist.

Go deep behind the artist persona, visit the pain behind the music, and reach a breakthrough – together.

Always real. Never scripted.

WE DELIVER COMPOUNDING IMPACT ADS CAN'T BUY

Our content has serious shelf life.

We get to artists early. Each time one of them breaks or goes viral, the episode gets another organic discovery boost.

A media buy stops the day the flight ends. This catalogue keeps working.

Fenty gets another bite, and another bite, and another bite.
